

Published on Marine Ecosystems and Management (MEAM) (<https://meam.openchannels.org>)

From the Archives: Payment for ecosystem services: An idea whose time has come for marine resource management? (MEAM October-November 2014, Issue 8:1)

Editor's Note: From the Archives is a new feature to call attention to past MEAM articles whose perspectives and insight remain relevant.

Highlights:

- Strengthening the business case for Payments for Ecosystem Services (PES)
- Gaining support from stakeholders for a PES program
- PES as an application of the precautionary principle
- PES must complement other ecosystem services approaches
- PES in fisheries
- Resources for applying economic value to ecosystem services
- Resources on blue carbon
- A project to standardize the practice of PES

Read the article at <https://meam.openchannels.org/news/meam/payment-ecosystem-services-idea-whose-time-has-come-marine-resource-management>.

Source URL: <https://meam.openchannels.org/news/meam/archives-payment-ecosystem-services-idea-whose-time-has-come-marine-resource-management>