

Published on Marine Ecosystems and Management (MEAM) (<https://meam.openchannels.org>)

---

Latest News and Resources for Ocean Planners and Managers

- First round of UN treaty negotiations on high seas biodiversity wraps up (read more here and here)
- Marine protection plan presented to Bahamian government for review and approval
- Ireland reaches first milestone in MSP process, publishing report on all marine activity
- European Commission finds EU has made some progress - but not enough - on reducing pressures on marine environment
- New database allows users to find and compare conservation plans from around the world
- Resources available for teaching about ocean planning to secondary/post-secondary classrooms
- 35 percent of wetlands lost between 1970 and 2015
- Jamaica bans single use plastic bags and straws by 2019
- Training helps US communities calculate nuisance flooding frequency
- New guidance helps US practitioners incorporate habitat protection and restoration into flood mitigation activities
- Indicators developed to assess ecological resilience of five Gulf of Mexico ecosystems
- Take a survey on critical research gaps for EBM implementation in US
- Apply for a free Sailldrone data mission by December 31
- European Commission calls for MSP proposals by October 23
- One Planet – One Ocean: From Science to Solutions MOOC underway – registration still available

And a few other things in ocean and science news that might be of interest:

- First commercial container ship crosses Arctic
- Google unveils search engine for open data
- European research funders mandate funded research to require open access publishing by 2020
- Fish can tell when diver has speargun
- Want to see how all life on earth stacks up \(by weight\)? – Warning: Bacteria are 1,166 times more massive than humans, marine mammals weigh a fifth of what they used to

---

Source URL: <https://meam.openchannels.org/news/skimmer-marine-ecosystems-and-management/latest-news-and-resources-ocean-planners-and-12#comment-0>